The Readibots approach is revolutionary because we put the control in your hands automating your current IAM processes without re-engineering them, integrating to applications with no incremental cost and automating fulfillment.

Identity Management is the process of maintaining a user's identity throughout its lifecycle from onboarding (joiner), through role changes (mover) and eventually termination (leaver). For many organizations, this is often a very manual process which is error prone or costly to implement traditional lifecycle management products. As your organization grows this becomes an even bigger problem. Automating these processes helps you improve operational efficiency for Identity and IT Operations teams, reduce potential threats with immediate fulfillment and improve the experience for employees.

With Readibots, complexity becomes a thing of the past. Seamlessly integrating with your existing systems, our solution delivers a user-friendly and intuitive Identity Management experience that saves you time, effort, and headaches. We've crafted Readibots to empower your business, so you can focus on what truly matters—your success.
